

To Whom It Concerns at the FCC:

I am writing to tell you how vital and important the radio station K-LOVE is to us, our family, and our community at large. K-LOVE is one of few radio stations that daily encourages and uplifts us individually in a most meaningful way. It encourages us to know that God is there who listens and helps us when we are sometimes at our lowest. I'm positive it has helped those who have come close to taking their own lives to look up to an all caring God who has a purpose for our lives, and to end it would be tragic.

To have K-LOVE replaced by a possible LPFM program is detrimental not only to you and your desire of more radio listeners, but most importantly disastrous to human life for those who need a source of hope and understanding. At K-LOVE, you can call in and receive help in so many ways.

K-LOVE is a great station for my two sons who can listen to positive music and words that encourage them to help others around them, instead of listening to that which would encourage hate and violence, although I would never allow them to listen to that. But there will be a time when they are out and choosing music for themselves, and wouldn't you rather be part of a positive solution to today's ills?!

You may or may not know how great it is to travel throughout the country and be able to find a radio station that is inspirational and more importantly, always there for you. My youngest son can pick out the Christian Radio Stations immediately because that is what he has heard from toddlerhood.

The value of K-LOVE is immeasurable. Please do not allow these LPFM stations take priority over stations that help so many with encouragement in a day and age when we need it so desperately.

Thank you and Sincerely,
Karen Carpenter
